

Digital Content Volunteer

Role description

Why do we need digital content volunteers?

We are looking for a sociable, creative individual to join our volunteer team and support staff with online engagement about Reading Museum and the Reading Abbey Quarter.

We need a volunteer to help us write exciting posts for our social media and blogs to help us raise awareness of our museum and maintain interest in the recently re-opened Reading Abbey Ruins.

What will you do?

Some of the tasks you could be involved in include:

- Online marketing of our events and family activities
- Developing and writing blogs
- Writing and scheduling tweets and posts
- Helping us keep our websites up to date
- Adding and promoting products on our online shop

This role will suit you if you:

- Have excellent written skills
- Have experience of using Facebook and Twitter
- Have experience of using online platforms
- Enjoy being creative
- Can work as part of a team
- Are enthusiastic, confident and proactive
- Have an interest in Reading's heritage

What will you get out of it?

We want the volunteer to get as much as possible from the role. You will have the opportunity to use your existing digital skills in a creative way in the workplace and develop your online marketing skills. It's also a great way to meet new people and learn more about Reading Museum and the Reading Abbey Quarter.

As part of the registration process, we will also discuss what you hope to get out of volunteering with us and how we can help you achieve this.

How much time will it take up?

This role is for approximately 4 hours a week. We are flexible in order to fit around other work or study commitments.

For your information

Reading Museum prides itself on being awarded the Investing in Volunteers accreditation in 2015.

We provide training and support to our volunteers to help them do well in their roles. As part of the registration process, we will also discuss what you hope to get out of volunteering with us and how we can help you achieve this.

To apply

Read through our volunteer policy (found under 'Get Involved' at www.readingmuseum.org.uk) and complete the volunteer registration form. Email your form to curator@readingmuseum.org.uk. If we think you are suitable for this role, we will invite you to Reading Museum for an informal interview.
